ANNAPOLIS WINS

Defeats Our Team In a Well Played Ten-Inning Contest

Splendid Showing by Our Boys

It took the Navy ten innings to defeat the George Washington University base ball team Saturday, and then the score was but 6 to 5.

The result of this game answers the question which the students have been asking themselves for some time. "What kind of a base ball team are we going to have?" Those who went over to Annapolis with the boys Saturday are already satisfied as to what they can do; Coach White has expressed himself as highly pleased with the work of the team, and impartial base ball critics say that this season the George Washington University will have a nine capable of holding its own with any of the colleges in this section of the country.

Last year the Middies defeated the old Columbian team 15 to 1. This year their team is fully 50 per cent stronger than it was a year ago, and yet they were only able to defeat the Buff and Blue aggregation after ten innings of hard playing. Even at that one or two of their players confessed themselves outplayed. Half of the runs scored by the cadets were made after the side should have been retired, and none of the other three were earned.

Then again, it must be remembered that our team had not been able to practice at all during the week on account of the bad condition of the grounds, due to wet weather. Coach White expressed himself as satisfied that if the boys had been able to work together for three or four days prior to the game they would have romped away with it by a good score.

There will be one or two changes in the team this week, which will strengthen it to a great extent. Batting practice will be one of the features of the work during the days between now and the Villa Nova game Friday, and it is confidently predicted that the team and the batting will be greatly improved.

If you want to see your team in action, and pass an opinion upon it yourself, then come down Friday and see the game with Villa Nova. This is a strong team, even stronger than Annapolis, and no one will regret the trip to University Field.

With this introductory we will tell a short story of the game Saturday.

The Navy sent the Buff and Blue men to the bat first, and only three men faced Needham, the crack twirler of the Middies. Holland, who did the box work for George Washington, blanked his opponents for two innings, but in the third they succeeded in getting one run across the plate.

In their half of the fourth, after Price and Bradley had been thrown out at first, Stevenson doubled to left, and Bielaski sent out a long one to right garden, scoring Stevenson, and anchoring on second himself. Weber followed with another double to right, scoring Bielaski.

This put the Buff and Blue in the lead, but in the fifth the Navy scored two runs through a combination of good luck, the wind lifting a fly over Van Vliet's head, two men scoring after two outs. George Washington tied the score in the seventh, and went ahead in the eighth.

However, in their half the Navy scored two runs, and entered the ninth inning with a score of 5 to 4 in their favor. Weber drew a base on balls and went around to third when Van Aulkenberg, who had succeeded Needham, threw low to catch him. Orrison's long fly to left scored him.

In the tenth, Orrison's error gave McWhor-ten a life on first, and a base on balls with a steal placed him on third, from which he scored on an infield hit.

The entire team played great ball. Only two errors were chalked up against the team. Bielaski played fine ball at short stop, and Weber certainly made good at first base, having fifteen put outs without an error. Bradley caught in faultless style, and Stevenson played second without an error.

At the bat Weber lead with two singles and a double out of four times at the bat.

Holland pitched a splendid game for the Buff and Blue. His control was perfect, and his curves sharp and deluding. Hutchinson will probably pitch Friday. He is one of the finest south paws in this section of the country and many teams will fall victims to his delivery before the season is over.

Outlook for Team

The following comment on the showing of the individual players up-to-date was handed in by a George Washington man who is thoroughly familiar with the game and with our players.

To all to whom George Washington's success in athletics is dear the showing so far made by the base ball team is a source of great pleasure. Real strength has been shown and the best team we have ever had seems the proper term for our base ball representatives of 1905. Practice has been rendered almost impossible by the severe weather yet the boys put up a game Saturday worthy of the middle of July. In Bradley we have a catcher the equal of any in the city. A sure heady batter, a clever base runner and an excellent coach for a pitcher. Of the pitchers Hutchinson is the best and when in shape will hold down the best teams we meet. Joe Holland appears to have mastered his great defect of last year—lack of control—and should this year win many a game. Thomas is also an excellent pitcher. His assortment of curves is particularly good. Weber on first is proving himself an experienced ball player, a hard hitter and a sure fielder. Stevenson is in it again with his bat and will drive many runs across the plate. He is a trifle slow in his fielding and should another infielder appear would do well to play himself in the outfield. Bielaski at short stop, although somewhat unsteady in Saturday's game is a known quantity and nobody is worrying about him. Orrison at third is a good man but unreliable as an infielder. Van Vliet, who bears all the ear marks of a ball player, would strengthen the infield. He and Orrison might trade places. Price by his good fielding and batting has earned his position in centrefield. Burkett, Warner, McMahon, and Salisbury are running a close race for an outfield position and the best hitter will win. The fielding in Saturday's game was very good and the batting an improvement over anything we had last year. Holland pitched a very pretty game. The most satisfactory feature of the work so far is the spirit the boys are showing. They are working together and for the team and the school. The credit for this delightful feature goes to the coach Doctor G. Harry White. His ability to handle the boys and to impart to them some of the base ball knowledge he possesses are factors which mean much in the molding of the 1905 team.

This year we are going to have a sure enough hard hitting, fast fielding ball team. Lets all get together and give them the support they deserve.

A Game for Saturday

The management has succeeded in arranging a practice game for the team for Saturday afternoon. The game will be with the Sixth Presbyterian team of the Church League and will be played at University Field at 4:30 o'clock. The boys from the Sixth claim to have a strong combination and a good game may be looked for.

Columbian College

The College Sophomore base ball team has organized for its annual game with the Freshmen and prospects for another victory for 1907 are bright. The following have already given their names as candidates for the team, and the line up will be chosen from them: Block, Bragaw, Cook, Keene, King, MacDonald, Purcell, Wilkie, Garges, Taylor, Winter and Behymer.

Dr. William Hamilton is delivering a course of six lectures on the "Expansion of Russia," before the Department of History. Dr. Hamilton is a Doctor of Philosophy of this University, and is connected at present with the Bureau of Education. His lectures are of great interest, especially in view of the present situation in the Far East, and they have attracted much favorable comment.

The Mechanicals adopted a Constitution, at their meeting on Friday night, but owing to the limited time the election of officers was postponed until Tuesday evening, March 28th. There was a good attendance and plenty of enthusiasm.

The Electric Club

The Electric Club held a special meeting on Monday evening to consider the representation of the club in "The Mall." It was decided after discussion that a picture should be taken for the purpose and a date was set.

The first regular meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday evening next. The program will consist of talks by two members of the club as follows:

Mr. Boyden, on the operation of hunt and compound Generators in Parralle and Mr. Gregory upon the operation of Shunt and Compound Generators upon the Three Wire System.

Freshman Ball Team

On Saturday evening last, March 25th, a concert and dance was held at Carroll Institute for the benefit of the University Freshmen base ball team.

Vocal numbers were rendered by both the glee clubs and solos were given by Mr. Talmadge, Mr. Whitmore and Miss Taylor.

The Dramatic Club made its first appearance of the season in a one act sketch "Lieutenant Jack" with Misses McLeod and Reinke and Messrs. Smith and Manney in the leading roles.

At conclusion of the program an informal dance was held. The affair was a success both from a social and financial standpoint and enough was realized to give the team a good start.

Co-Ed Notes

Miss Mildred Cochran entertained a number of her college girl friends at her home on Wisconsin Avenue, last Tuesday night. Some original ideas in the way of entertainment caused much merriment among the girls and make the evening remembered by all who were present as one of the most pleasant of the college year.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson is entertaining a couple of her friends from Cleveland, Ohio this week. These young ladies, Miss Wall and Miss Trask are anticipating the Wednesday assembly where they expect to have their first glimpse of George Washington University.

The girls of the University are looking forward to a delightful tennis season this spring and the beautiful weather gives promise that their hopes will not be disappointed.

Dont Forget the Concert
Friday Night

Architectural Club

The students of the Architectural School have been busy during the last few weeks forming an Architectural Club which it is believed will be a great step in the progress of architecture in the University. The purposes are to promote the interests of architecture in the University, and to give the members of the club opportunities for friendly competition in design. The club has received the official recognition of the Faculty and has hopes of more substantial aid in the future in the publication of a year book of the Architectural School, which will show the work of the school in a number of reproductions of the drawings made by the several classes. Following the examples of the other large universities the publication of this Year Book will be one of the most important objects of the Club. The Club has had its first competition and at the end of the year will give two valuable architectural books as prizes to the men standing highest in design. The Club is also arranging for lectures by prominent architects and papers to be prepared by its members on different architectural topics. Professor Percy Ash the head professor of architecture is the faculty adviser of the Club. After several meetings a constitution and by-laws have been adopted and officers elected. The officers are: President, Delos H. Smith; Vice-President, Irene M. Pistorio; Secretary, Ralph S. Bubb, and Treasurer, W. H. I. Fleming. On the executive committee are R. Bruce Atkinson, Maud Meigs and George R. Berryman. Great interest in the club is being manifested as is shown by the promptness with which the members have come up with their dues.

Annual Election of Officers of Athletic Association

Tuesday, April 25, 1905, the election of President, Vice-President and Secretary of the Athletic Association, and a Manager for the University base ball team, will be held. Nomination of candidates for these offices must be made in writing, and submitted to the secretary of the association on or before April 1st, 1905.

Theta Delta Chi

The Chi Deuteron Charge of Theta Delta Chi celebrated its ninth anniversary Saturday, March 25th with an informal supper at the fraternity house. The occasion was an enthusiastic one, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. Stanton C. Peele, presided as toastmaster and introduced among others the following speakers: Harry T. Domer, E. J. Dent, F. W. Albert and D. H. Smith. Beside the active charge, a large number of graduate Theta Delts were present.

On Friday evening a concert will be given at Rauscher's for the benefit of the Varsity Track Team. The complete program is published in another part of the paper and full information given both of the concert and of the track team. Upon the success of this concert depends the life of the track team during the present year. If the student body wishes its continuance and its prosperity they can effect it by their attendance on Friday night.

The track team has been placed in a peculiar and awkward position. Starting out anew as they did this year, they had no funds to draw from; the Athletic Association could not aid them; and the Smoker upon which so many hopes had been based was a flat failure. This concert, then, which has been planned and worked up by the girls of the College is the last resort.

The management, as has been announced, is now planning an outdoor interclass meet, to be held at the field in the middle of April and entries are to be made in both the Pennsylvania and Georgetown meets. These all necessitate a considerable outlay of money and to defray these expenses, as well as those already incurred, some money must be forthcoming. The management has throughout been most careful in its outlay and expenses have been kept at the lowest figure. The services of the trainer, Captain Bryan given at a great sacrifice of his time and convenience, have been rendered voluntarily and without any pay from the University. But the expenses, kept at a minimum as they have been, must be met if the track team is to continue.

At this time the prospects for the team are brighter than they have ever been. Many men have been turning out regularly every day since outdoor practice was begun and not a day passes but that additions are made to the squad. If they are enabled to continue, the outdoor meet next month will be a revelation to every student of the University. It will show that we have men who are able to cope with the other great Universities in field and track events. That is, if they are enabled to continue. And that depends upon the student body at large.

If you possess any pride in your University if you have any interest in the success of her athletics, show it now by coming to the aid of that most deserving and at the same time most neglected branch of athletics, the track team.

The base ball team got a good start on Saturday and in spite of the defeat made a fine showing and kept the Navy boys hustling every minute. With the practice the splendid weather of the present week will enable them to receive and with the strengthening it will probably receive from changes in the line up of the men, a much faster game may be expected on Friday and thereafter. The teams to be played are usually strong ones and we may expect to see many fast and pretty games on the field during the season. So come out on Friday and give the boys some good cheering to help them win out from Villa Nova.

morning at ten o'clock.

Messrs. Flowers, Faries and Miller will speak upon the affirmative and Messrs. Badger, McLean and Guyton upon the negative.

The question before the Needham Society is "Resolved, that the time has now come when the policy of protection should be abandoned by the United States, with Messrs. Dobbins, Hellerstedt and Acton on the affirmative and Messrs. Hickon, Busch and Schommer on the negative.

The subject for the next intersociety debate between the Columbian and Needham Debating Societies is

"Resolved, That it is detrimental to the best interests of the United States to hold the Philippines Islands.

The Columbians on Friday evening will choose the side which they will debate.

Track Team

The manager and trainer of the track team are fast rounding things in shape for the inter-class meet which is to be held on University Field about the middle of April.

The program of events as far as made out includes all the usual track and field events and besides a large number of relay contests. The management is at the present time working under some difficulties. The financial problem it is hoped to overcome by the concert on Friday night. The principal difficulty now is the uncertainty as to just who are coming out. The classes are all showing great enthusiasm and spirit but they have not yet sent in any information as to what events they wish to contest.

During the coming weeks, entry blanks are to be sent to each class and it is the desire of the management that these be filled out and returned as soon as possible so that they shall have some working basis to go ahead on.

All men who are desirous of competing in any events are privileged to turn out at any time at the track and secure the aid and advice of the trainer. On every afternoon after four thirty, Captain Bryan is at the park and he is always glad to do everything in his power for those interested in the track athletics.

University Smoker

Another University Smoker has come and gone. On last Thursday evening at National Rifles' Armory the second one was held.

The program went off as scheduled with few variations. At about eight o'clock the parade formed at the University and under the direction of the Marshal Mr. Jackson Morris proceeded down 15th Street to Pennsylvania Ave. to 9th street and up 9th to G and west on G to the armory. There were some few alumni in the parade, and the honor of walking first was awarded to the Dental men, they having the largest number present in proportion to their membership.

On the arrival at the armory the body proceeded to the upper hall where after some little trouble Mr. Pepper, the master of ceremonies of the evening, made a few introductory remarks, and also read letters of regret from the President of the United States and from President Needham.

The program as given in last week's paper was then proceeded with.

The supper consisting of sandwiches and salads was served down stairs and after the program was finished. The fun began there. It is best to pass over most of the happenings, and merely to state that those present had a very happy time.

The attendance was much smaller than had been anticipated and it is feared that when the final account is made, it will disclose a balance on the wrong side of the books.

Dramatic Club

On Monday evening an important business meeting of the Dramatic Club was held at Mr. Hickman's studio. The final arrangements for the annual play were brought up and perfected. The play selected was "The School for Scandal". Mr. Hickman will continue his coaching and have entire charge of the cast, etc. Most of the parts have already been assigned and the members are at work on their parts. Rehearsals will be held every Monday and Wednesday from now till the play is given, during the latter part of May.

The question of a business manager was then considered and Mr. O. L. Ferris, of the Third Year Law Class was selected of three position. It is the understanding that everything connected with the business management will be absolutely under his control. The club considers that the success of the production from a business standpoint is assured with the selection of Mr. Ferris for his ability in the line of business management is now almost proverbial at George Washington.

Full announcements regarding the cast, production, etc. will be published in "The Hatchet" at an early date.

The Mall

The work on the "Mall" from the picture standpoint is about finished, that is, the pictures, groups and individuals have been completed and are to be sent to the engraver's during the course of this week. Last year the engraving and cut work was all done in the city but the managers this year found it advantageous to have the work done out of town. In this line the "Mall" is somewhat ahead of the "C" of last year.

The work now resolves itself almost entirely upon the editors in selecting and placing the stories, poems, jokes, etc., which will be submitted in the case of the Senior editor to the writing of the biographical sketches of the graduates. This is a big work and the senior editors are not to be envied for their positions. The biographies in most cases are quite elaborate and involve much time on the part of the editors in securing the data.

The business manager from now on instead of urging the students to have their pictures taken, has the pleasant task of urging them to sign their names to the little blank with which he is so well supplied, another enviable task. This work is just being started, so be prepared to face him at any time during the next few days. The work of securing advertisements too, takes a considerable share of his time. This work it is understood is well under way and is not causing any uneasiness.

The board urges all students to send in many contributions in the way of stories, poems and jokes, so that this feature of the book will show up in proportion to the others. The weakness of last year's annual was chiefly along this line and the board is anxious to have no repetition of it. So wake up, ye poets, authors, and punsters and write for "The Mall."

A Splendid Picture

Such is the general verdict on the grouping of the Glee Club lately taken by Harris and Ewing. It will occupy a full page in "The Mall." The arrangement is particularly well done and the details are fine and clear cut. Such seems to be the distinguishing mark of all work turned out by this new yet most popular studio. All the work for "The Mall" has been completed and more attention will now be given to individual sittings. Adv.

University Congress

The meeting last Saturday evening was well attended and the debate over a resolution to submit to the States for ratification a Constitutional amendment giving Congress the power to pass uniform marriage and divorce laws provoked a good debate. Speaker, Kelly called the meeting to order and in the absence of the journal clerk Congress entered upon immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. Stern, of Wisconsin, in a speech characterized by vigor and fluency, quoted instances of diversity in the laws governing marriage and divorce in the several states. He showed the demoralizing influence of having questions of the validity of the married relation and the integrity of the home. He argued that a uniform evil should be applied a uniform remedy. Mr. Cohen, of Wisconsin, took the position that lack of uniformity of these laws was not an evil. He argued that as less than one-fourth the divorces granted were outside the state in which the parties married.

In the general discussion which followed, questions were made touching conflict of laws, the necessity for local self-government, the varying social conditions of different sections of the country, the propriety of delegating the police power to the central government and the probable action of Congress, should the amendment be ratified, upon laws against miscegenation. Closing in opposition to the measure, Mr. Kennedy, of Pennsylvania, made a speech which was typical of the thorough manner in which the debate had been prepared. He condemned federal control of any question until local laws had been found to be wrong in theory and fatal in practice, neither of which had been shown of the laws in question. He argued that other evils, just as national, had never been submitted to federal control and cited instances of the inefficiency of federal control of other evils.

Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee, in rebuttal denied the value of statistics offered by opponents to the measure, denied any danger to Southern control of the race problem as a result of the amendment and argued that in the particular instance under discussion delegation of the police power to the federal government was proper.

The overwhelming vote against the measure is no index of the evenness of the argument presented by leaders on both sides. The session was interesting from start to finish, speakers came to issue on every argument advanced and were able to maintain their respective positions by some argument or evidence.

At the regular meeting next Saturday evening the following resolution will be put upon its final passage: "Be it resolved by University Congress in regular session assembled that the Committee on Ways and Means be instructed to prepare and present to Congress a tariff bill which shall have for its sole object the raising of revenue." Mr. Pepper, of Iowa, and Mr. Riddell, of Washington, will support the resolution. Mr. Lee, of Washington, and Mr. Beeler, of Indiana, will lead the opposition.

Brief for the Resolution.

- I. Tariff on imports the only feasible way of raising our federal revenue.
- II. No revenue raised on protected articles.
- III. Protected industries carried on at a loss.
- IV. Protection a tribute laid on the nation for the benefit of the few.
- V. Protection only justifiable.
  - a As aid to "infant industries."
  - b As a war measure, but
- VI. Neither of these two justifications now applicable to the United States.

(No negative brief has been sent in)

Medical Notes

The following inscription has been selected for the "de Schweinitz Memorial Tablet":

Emil Alexander de Schweinitz, A. B., Ph.D., M. D.

Born January 18, 1864.

Died February 15, 1904.

Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology.

1902-1904.

Dean of the Department of Medicine,

1897-1904.

In recognition of his services to Medicine and to the cause of Medical Education, this tablet is affectionately erected by the Medical and Dental Classes of 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, and by his Colleagues of the Medical and Dental Faculties.

A large number of the Medical Faculty were present at the University Smoker. Among those present were Drs. Phillips, Thompson, King, Shute, Carr, Carroll, Taylor, Riggles, White, Acker, Higgins, Rodgers, Grasty, and Donnally.

The boys are always glad to see them, and each professor upon arriving was greeted with class yells, such as "Recapitulation," "Bilirubin," etc. Dr. King in a few chosen remarks made a short opening address.

The Sophomores were out in full force and as usual sold the largest number of tickets to the Smoker.

Who says the Sophs are not workers, and do not live up to their motto?

A recent change in the Freshman Schedule requires that class to complete Anatomy and Physiology this year.

What has become of our professors in Electro-Therapeutics and Minor Surgery?

A doctor's generosity usually ends with the prescribing of large doses.

FOUND.

"And what was it you found in my appendix, doctor?"

"A gold collar button."

"There, doggone it! That's the only place I didn't think to look for it!"

"Don't on any account sleep on an empty stomach!" was the advice of a physician to a patient.

"No danger of that," was the reply; "I always sleep on my back!"
